Georgia State fell at NC State, 69-53, in the season opener for both teams Thursday at the RBC Center in Raleigh, N.C. Ousman Krubally had 14 points and 10 rebounds to lead the Panthers, who were tied with NC State with 13 minutes to play before the Wolfpack managed to pull away.

Georgia State was behind by just three at the half, 32-29, and then tied the score on a layup by Joe Dukes with 13:44 left. The Panthers trailed 41-39 with 11 minutes left when the Wolfpack scored 11 straight points over a four-minute span to take a 52-41 lead.

Field goal shooting and rebounding were very close, but NC State went to the free throw 35 times in the game, to just 12 trips for the Panthers. The Wolfpack’s top player, forward Tracy Smith, had 18 points and 11 rebounds as he went 10-for-12 from the line.

“It was a pretty good game for about 30 minutes, but we let it get away,” said Georgia State head coach Rod Barnes. “Our guys gave great effort, but we came here to win a game, not just play hard.

“We got in foul trouble and we weren’t able to keep them off the line, and that was a key to the game.”

Krubalik’s double-double, the first of his career, came off the bench after starter Trey Hampton got in early foul trouble. Xavier Hansbro added 13 points and a career-high nine rebounds. But Panther guards Joe Dukes and Trae Goldston, the team’s top two scorers a year ago, combined to shoot 5-for-18 from the field.

Dukes, a preseason all-CAA selection, was held to seven points but contributed six assists, three rebounds and two steals.

“Our post players, for the most part, did a good job, but our guard play was not what it needed to be to win on the road,” said Barnes.

“It was a good experience for us to play an ACC team on their home floor. I saw good things out there that we can build and some things we need to work on. We’ll get back in the gym and go to work.”

Transfer Marques Johnson, whose first game in a Georgia State uniform came against his former school, had two points, two rebounds and an assist.

GEORGIA STATE 77, CARVER BIBLE COLLEGE 53

GEORGIA STATE Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Trae Goldston scored 17 points and Trey Hampton added 11 points and nine rebounds to lead Georgia State to a 77-53 victory over Carver Bible College in the Panthers’ home opener at the Sports Arena.

Sophomore James Fields contributed a career-high 11 points off the bench for the Panthers, who evened their record at 1-1. Carver fell to 0-6.

“We’re very happy to get the win, but we know we can play much better, especially defensively,” said Georgia State head coach Rod Barnes. “Give credit to Carver; they like to get up a lot of shots and they’ve got some guys who are capable of scoring a lot, but we gave up too many easy baskets.

“We played well defensively in our first game, and we’ve practiced well, but tonight, we didn’t play with the kind of cohesiveness on defense that we need.

From an offensive standpoint, playing against a team that plays 40 minutes of zone is a little unusual, but that experience is going to help us.”

Hampton, a senior from Hoover, Ala., turned in a strong all-round effort, going 4-for-5 from the field, along with four blocked shots and three steals.

“Trey really did a good job, especially in the second half,” said Barnes. “I challenged our guys at halftime, and he really came out and gave great effort on defense and on the boards.

The Panthers led from the opening tip and used their size advantage on the boards, outrebounding Carver 49-35, and getting to the free throw line 32 times. GSU forced 21 turnovers and grabbed 15 steals, but the Panthers also committed 18 turnovers.

Cory Evans led Carver with 17 points, and Joshua Caston added a double-double with 11 points and 10 rebounds.

The Panthers built a 41-27 halftime lead as Goldston scored 15 of his points before the intermission. He also had six rebounds and five assists, both career highs.

“We have a goal of going undefeated at home, so we’ll take this win but realize as a team that we’ve got to do better,” said Barnes.”
Glenn Wilkes Classic • Ocean Center • Daytona Beach, Fla.

Georgia State's late rally came up short and the Panthers fell to Drake, 65-58, in the Glenn Wilkes Classic. Joe Dukes led Georgia State with 20 points and Trii Goldston added 16, but the Panthers could not overcome Drake's hot shooting nor their own shooting woes. Drake connected on 59.3 percent from the field, including seven three-pointers, while GSU managed just 32.8 percent.

"It was a tough day for us shooting the ball," said Georgia State head coach Rod Barnes. "We got to finish around the basket. We got the ball to the rim, but too many times we couldn't finish. I'm happy that we made a run, but we're a better team than we showed today."

GSU's backcourt of Dukes and Goldston combined for 36 points, but starting post players Trey Hampton and Xavier Hansbro were limited to three points. Ousman Krubally grabbed 13 rebounds off the bench, one off his career best. He added six points, three steals and two assists. The Panthers outrebounded Drake, 39-33, and forced 19 Bulldog turnovers.

Duke benefitted from balanced scoring with four of their five starters reaching double figures, led by Ryan Wedel with 15 points. While GSU's backcourt of Dukes and Goldston combined for 36 points, but starting guards sniper Trae Hampton and Trae Goldston scored six points in the last two minutes. Hampton scored six points in the last two minutes.

"I'm happy that we made a run, but we missed a lot of easy shots. With all the layups we had, we should have been able to shoot 50 percent. But I'm happy with the win, and very happy with the effort and energy on the defensive end. If we continue to defend like that, the offense will take care of itself."

Georgia State limited Howard to just 11 field goals and 25.6 percent shooting from the field while outrebounding the Bison, 44-27. The previous scoring low for a GSU opponent was 40 points by Jacksonville State on Feb. 11, 1999. "The Panthers' 24-point margin of victory is the second-best mark in GSU annals."

Playing a game that tipped off at 11 a.m., both teams started slowly on offense as the Panthers led 20-13 at the half. Howard managed just five field goals on 23 attempts. "It was a tough day for us shooting the ball," said Georgia State head coach Rod Barnes. "We got to finish around the basket. We got the ball to the rim, but too many times we couldn't finish. I'm happy that we made a run, but we're a better team than we showed today."

GSU's backcourt of Dukes and Goldston combined for 36 points, but starting post players Trey Hampton and Xavier Hansbro were limited to three points. Ousman Krubally grabbed 13 rebounds off the bench, one off his career best. He added six points, three steals and two assists. Georgia State fell at Florida State, 62-55, at the Tucker Center. Joe Dukes scored 22 points for the Panthers, who rallied from 17 points down in the second half against the much taller Seminoles to pull within four points in the final two minutes.

Solomon Alabi led Florida State with a career-high 22 points as the 7-1 center went 8-9 from the field and 6-8 for the line. "You’re always disappointed with a loss, but I’m proud of our kids for the effort they gave," said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. "Florida State may be the tallest, most long and athletic team I’ve ever coached against. Early in the game, we were a little overwhelmed by their size and athletic ability, but then we settled down.

"In the second half we stepped up our defensive intensity and got some turnovers. We hit a couple of shots that enabled us to crawl back into the game. We had opportunities to close the gap even more, but we missed some good looks."

Florida State led just 30-24 at the half, but the Seminoles scored the first eight points of the second half to build a 14-point advantage. FSU led 52-35 with just under 10 minutes to play when the Panthers began to chip away behind Dukes, who scored 19 of his 22 points in the second half. The 6-1 guard hit a short jumper and a driving layup and then sank two free throws that gave FSU a 56-40 lead with 6:41 left.

After the Seminoles pushed their lead back to 12 at 57-45 with four minutes to go, Duke and James Fields hit three-pointers, and then Ousman Krubally’s layup made the score 59-53 with 2:43 to play.

The Panthers forced a turnover, and Trae Goldston’s jumper pulled GSU within 51-49 with 1:03 to play. After another FSU turnover, one of 19 for the game by the Panthers, Goldston missed a jump shot with 32 seconds left, and Derwin Kitchen made two free throws to seal the win for the Seminoles.

Dukes hit a career-high four three-pointers in the game and also contributed six rebounds and two steals. Fields added nine points and three steals, and freshman guard James Fields III saw his most significant playing time with four points and six rebounds and two steals. Ousman Krubally contributed seven points and five rebounds while taking two charges. Johnson finished with five assists and just one turnover.

The second half included 10 lead changes and seven ties.

Hampton missed for the Panthers, but James Fields drew a charge on Eastern Michigan’s next position, and that’s when Johnson stepped up with his basket.

The second half ended with 10 lead changes and seven ties.

Trae Goldston scored 22 points, and Marques Johnson hit the go-ahead basket with 57 seconds left as Georgia State defeated Eastern Michigan, 66-65.

With the scored tied at 62-62, Johnson, the junior point guard, scored his only points of the game on a foul-line jumper to put the Panthers (6-6) ahead. After Brandon Bowdry made one of two free throws for Eastern Michigan (6-4) with 35 seconds to play, Joe Dukes sank pair of free throws with 29 seconds on the clock.

The Eagles missed three shots in the final 11 seconds, including two three-point attempts, before Bowdry’s putback with 0.4 seconds left accounted for the 66-65 final score.

“I’m proud of our kids for hanging in there,” said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. “We have played better games, but we’ll definitely take the win.

“Trae not only shot the ball well, but he made big shots when we really needed them. We needed all 22 of his points. And Marques stepped up and made a huge shot at the end.”

Goldston went 5-for-8 from three-point range. He scored 15 of his points in the second half on four treys and an old-fashioned three-point play.

After leading 30-26 at the half, the Panthers quickly fell behind and trailed 56-49 with eight minutes to go. Goldston hit a three-pointer, and then Trey Hampton hit two free throws to pull FSU within two. After two foul shots by Bowdry, Goldston nailed another trey, and the Panthers trailed, 58-57, with 5:41 left.

Hampton blocked an EMU shot, got the rebound, and then hit a short jumper in the lane to put the Panthers’ ahead, 59-58 with 3:14 to play, FSU’s lead since very early in the second half.

EMU made the score 59-57 with 2:43 to play, tying the score at 62-62 with 2:24 to play.

Georgia State Panthers

GEORGIA STATE 85, GEORGIA SOUTHERN 65

Georgia State Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Trae Goldston scored 18 points as Georgia State won its third straight game with a 70-61 victory over Towson. The Panthers won their eighth straight at the GSU Sports Arena dating back to last season.

Hampton's driving layup tied the score at 53-all with 6:18 to play. Then he grabbed a steal in the backcourt, got fouled and sank the two free throws to put the Panthers ahead for good at 55-53 with 6:12 to play.

Goldston nailed a three-pointer to push the Panthers' lead to 58-53 with 4:16 left, but Towson's Josh Thornton hit back-to-back treys pulled the Tigers within one, 60-59, at 2:28. Hampton answered with another layup, and after a Towson miss, Joe Dukes' free throws put GSU ahead, 64-59, with a minute left.

“I thought our guys had a will to win the game,” said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. “It wasn’t a great game as far as execution, but we stayed confident throughout the game. Winning breeds winning. Now our guys believe that when we come to the Sports Arena, we’re supposed to win the game, and I think that’s why we finished strong tonight.”

Hampton, a senior from Hoover, Ala., went 8-for-8 with 16 points last time out against Georgia Southern, and over the last three games, he has gone 21-for-34 from the field. He is the fourth different Panther to top the 20-point mark this season, along with Dukes, Goldston and Xavier Hansbro.

The 6-7 forward, who also contributed four rebounds and four blocked shots, was 6-for-6 with 14 points in the second half.

Goldston has scored 68 points in his last three games, but none have been bigger than his late three-pointer tonight.

“They played some box-and-one and closed out on him, and I told him to just patient,” said Barnes. “You want your shooters to hit big shots, and he hit a really big one tonight.”

Dukes added 13 points, 10 rebounds and seven assists, while Hansbro contributed 10 points for the Panthers, who shot 47 percent from the field.

Georgia State lead by as many as 15 points in the first half but foul trouble allowed Towson back into the game and the Tigers scored the final seven points of the half to pull within 33-29 at the intermission.

The second-half was a back-and-forth affair before Hampton's late run. Towson leading by as many as four midway through the second half.

Georgia State, which has played strong defense all season, held the Tigers to 34 percent from the field, collected nine steals and blocked eight shots. Towson, however, blocked nine shots, including seven by CAA leader Robert Nwankwo.

Georgia State Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia State fell to Drexel, 72-57, Monday at the GSU Sports Arena, snapping the Panthers’ three-game winning streak as well as an eight-game home streak.

Trae Goldston scored 15 points and Joe Dukes had 13 points and six rebounds for the Panthers, who fell to 8-7 overall, 2-1 in the CAA.

Jamie Harris scored a career-high 32 points to lead Drexel (7-8, 2-1 CAA), and Gerald Colds added 16 points. Daryl McCoy grabbed 13 rebounds for the Dragons.

The Panthers fell behind from the opening tip as Drexel shot 68 percent in the first half to take a 44-27 lead into the locker room. Georgia State hit 6-of-7 threes in the first half but could not stop Harris, who poured in 21 points before the intermission. He finished the game 12-19 from the field and 7-8 at the line.

“Trae Goldston was that much better,” said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. “They came out more physical and more aggressive than us, and we didn’t respond very well. Drexel is an excellent team, and they are a big and wide, but we’ve got to do a better job.”

Georgia State, which has played strong defense all season, was much better in the second half, holding the Dragons to just 35 percent themselves, and after cutting the deficit to 12 points with nine minutes to go, GSU scored a couple of baskets.

“We played better in the second half, but we dug ourselves in too big a hole,” said Barnes.

The Panthers made seven of nine shots from three-point range but were just 13-43 on two-point attempts.

Dante Curry scored a season-high 10 points off the bench for the Panthers, and freshman James Vincent grabbed five rebounds.

Matt Janning scored 23 points to lead the Huskies, who won their seventh straight game to maintain a share first place in the CAA standings. From there, the Panthers outscored NU 19-10 to pull within two at the half.

"I'm disappointed that we're not playing the type of basketball we capable of," said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. "We got off to a slow start again and put ourselves in too big of a hole. We can't do that and expect to beat teams in this league, especially a really good team like Northeastern that is on a roll right now.

"We've got to go back to work and see what we can do to get ourselves off to a better start." "We've got to work harder to get Trae Goldston more open looks, but if we play harder on defense, we move better on offense," said Barnes. "And when we get to the basket, we've got to finish." Northeastern opened the game by making its first five shots to jump to a 14-3 lead. From there, the Panthers outscored NU 19-10 to pull within two at the half.

The Huskies' backcourt combined for 36 points. Janning, the all-CAA guard, added 12 points.

"I'm proud of our guys for hanging in there and fighting; we gave ourselves a chance to win against a really good team on the road," said head coach Rod Barnes.

"I'm disappointed that we didn't come away with a win, but we got back to the line and we made both free throws.

"The Panthers outrebounded Mason, 40-27, and were slightly better than from the field, 41 percent to 39 percent, but the Patriots' three three-pointers, including 4-for-6 by Andre Cornelius, proved to be the difference. Cornelius and Long led George Mason with 14 points each.

He wasn't necessarily our first option, but when a guy is wide open, you've got to give him the ball and he took a good shot. After struggling the last three games, Goldston came off the bench for the first time this season and responded with three three-pointers and a 6-for-12 night from the field, along with his six steals.

"I knew Trae would come out and play well tonight, and I was happy to see Goldston and Joseph Rodriguez score 21 points and handed out seven assists for VCU, which shot 62 percent from the field to win its ninth in a row. Wake Forest transfer Jamie Sween added 16 points on 8-for-10 shooting.

Joe Dukes scored 17 points and Trey Hampton added a double-double with 17 points and 10 rebounds as Georgia State overcame a 12-point second-half deficit to earn a 79-74 victory over UNCW at the GSU Sports Arena.

The win snapped a five-game skid for the Panthers, while UNCW dropped its fifth straight game despite having four players in double figures, led by Johnny Wolf with 19 points and Chad Tomko with 18.

Trailing 43-31 early in the second half, Georgia State turned up its defensive intensity to spark a 17-6 run, scoring on 10 of 12 possessions.

Dante Curry’s three-pointer pulled GSU within one point at 49-48 with 12:26 to play, but Tomko answered with a three to push UNCW’s advantage back to four.

With the score tied at 52, Dukes stole the ball in the backcourt and made a layup to put the Panthers ahead. GSU pushed its lead up to eight points and led 73-65 with 2:28 to go after a pair of free throws by Curry, but the Seahawks quickly scored six straight on back-to-back threes by Ahmad Grant and Wolf, pulling within 73-71 with 1:29 to play.

From there, Grant and Tomko missed three-point tries for UNCW, and Georgia State hit four more foul shots to seal the win.

“Our guys really responded to the change we made at halftime to press and push the ball up the floor,” said head coach Rod Barnes. “The pressure made us more aggressive and it slowed them down, got them back on their heels and gave us an opportunity to get some steals. The second half was the most energy and enthusiasm we played with since Georgia Southern before Christmas.”

The Panthers shot 51 percent from the field for their best performance in a CAA game this season and committed just 11 turnovers while forcing 17 miscues. In the second half, GSU connected on 56 percent and outrebounded the Seahawks, 20-13.

Georgia State fell at Delaware, 76-74 in overtime. Joe Dukes scored 23 points for the Panthers, but Delaware's Jawan Carter scored five straight points at the end of regulation to tie the game and then hit the winning three-pointer in overtime.

With the score tied at 72-all in the extra session, Carter, the CAA's third-leading scorer, nailed a three-pointer from the corner to put Delaware ahead with 50 seconds left. Georgia State answered with a stickback by Ousman Krubally that led scoring and he didn't turn the ball over. "I thought Joe might have played the best game of his career," said Barnes.

With the game tied at 70, Krubally had his shot blocked by Jamelle Hagins. Alphonso Dawson rebounded for the Blue Hens, but Carter missed a potential winning shot at the buzzer to force the overtime.

Dukes turned in a strong all-around effort with eight rebounds, six assists, three steals and just one turnover to go along with his 23 points, which included three-pointers. Trey Hampton and Jihad Ali added 11 points each.

OLD DOMINION 56, GEORGIA STATE 40

Ted Constant Center • Norfolk, Va.

Georgia State fell at Old Dominion, 56-40, in Colonial Athletic Association basketball Thursday at the Constant Center in Norfolk, Va.

Joe Dukes and Trae Goldston scored 11 points each for GSU, but the Panthers fell to 9-13, 3-7 in the CAA. Old Dominion won its eighth straight game and its 19th straight at home to improve to 17-5, 9-1 CAA and remain in a tie for first place in the CAA.

Gerald Lee, the preseason CAA Player of the Year, led ODU with 16 points, and Ben Finney added 12 points and nine boards. The much taller Monarchs outrebounded Georgia State, 40-23, and GSU managed to shoot just 35 percent from the field.

The Monarchs opened a 31-18 lead at the half. The Panthers managed to pull within seven points with eight minutes to go but could get no closer.

"To hold Old Dominion to 36 points is a very good effort, but you've got to make shots on the road," said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. "We missed some easy opportunities, and that hurt our confidence. We were able to cut it to seven, but then we missed some opportunities.

"Give Old Dominion credit, they're a very good basketball team, especially at home. They're big and they're deep, and their size hurt us.”

Georgia State Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Four Georgia State players scored in double figures, led by Trey Hampton with 14 points, as the Panthers defeated South Carolina State, 67-52, in the ESPN Bracketbusters event at the GSU Sports Arena.

Also reaching double figures for the Panthers were Trae Goldston with 13 points, Ousman Krubally with 12 and Joe Dukes with 10. Dukes also contributed six assists and four steals, while Hampton and Krubally combined for 15 rebounds, including nine offensive rebounds.

“It was a good team effort,” said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. “We played with intensity, we shared the basketball, and we defended well. We were able to play a lot of guys, and everyone contributed.

“This was a different kind of game because they are a smaller team but very quick and aggressive. Our kids did a good job of adjusting.”

The game was close for the first 15 minutes, but the Panthers seized control by ending the first half with an 18-5 run to take a 34-23 lead into the locker room, and GSU maintained a double-digit lead for the entire second half.

The Panthers forced 19 turnovers and held South Carolina State to 36 percent shooting from the field.

Brandon Smalls led the Bulldogs with 14 points, and Carrio Bennett added 10 points.

With his 13 points tonight, Goldston moved into 14th place on the GSU career scoring list with 1,025 points. He also played in his 119th career game, one shy of the school record.

GEORGIA STATE 74

Mack Sports Complex • Hempstead, N.Y.

Despite 20 points from senior Joe Dukes, missed free throws doomed Georgia State in an 87-74 loss at Hofstra in the regular-season finale for both teams. The Panthers shot just 51.4 percent from the charity stripe, 45.0 percent in the second half, as 17 missed free throws proved to be the difference in the game.

"Hofstra did an outstanding job on the offensive glass tonight," said head coach Rod Barnes. "We let them get too comfortable by missing free throws and they were able to spread it out. They did a good job of playing together and it showed as they had a lot of assists. We have to give them credit, but at the same time, I am still disappointed as I think it could have been a closer game."

Hofstra, the hottest team in the conference and winners of nine of their last 10 games, got 29 points from Charles Jenkins and nailed 12 three-pointers as a team. Dukes, finished 8-of-18 from the field while adding five boards, three steals and two assists.

Georgia State led 14-9, just under six minutes into the game, but fouls troubled the Panthers most of the first half. Barnes was forced to make changes to the lineup after senior Trey Anthony picked up his second first half foul less than eight minutes into the game. A total of five Panthers picked up two fouls prior to the intermission.

Over the next 12 minutes, Hofstra outscored Georgia State 34-15 to take a 49-29 lead with 1:54 to play in the first half before the Panthers used a run of their own to back into the game. State held Hofstra scoreless over the final 1:54, using a 7-0 run to end the half, spurred by five points from Dukes.

"Joe played really well. He is playing like a senior should be playing this late into the season. We have some other seniors that need to step it up when we get back to get ready for next week," said Barnes.

Jihad Ali's three-pointer at the 16:41 mark of the second half capped Georgia State's 16-3 run and cut the deficit to one, 46-45, but that is as close as the Panthers got in the second half.

Jenkins and Cornelius Vines led the Pride with 11 combined three-pointers and 47 points on senior day for the Pride. Hofstra shot 44.4 percent from three-point range, including 5-of-9 in the second half. Hall Kanacevic added 16 points and seven rebounds, shooting 8-of-11 from the free throw line.

The Pride out-rebounded Georgia State, 53-42, including 21 offensive rebounds, which led to 22 second chance points.

Xavier Hansbrow added 11 points, while freshman James Vincent pulled in nine rebounds in just 11 minutes.

HOFSTRA 68, GEORGIA STATE 67

CAA First Round • Richmond Coliseum • Richmond, Va.

Tenth-seeded Georgia State fell to No. 7 seed Hofstra, 68-67, in the first round of the Colonial Athletic Association Championship as Greg Washington's foul line jumper with 15 seconds left lifted the Pride to victory.

Senior Ousman Krubally scored a career-high 19 points, 17 of them in the second half, after a foul line jumper with 11 points down in the final 10 minutes, but finished their season at 12-20. Hofstra (19-13), which advances to face second-seeded Northeastern in the CAA quarterfinals, got 24 points from CAA Player of the Year Charles Jenkins, but it was the jump shot from the 6-11 senior Washington that did the most damage.

The Panthers had taken a 67-66 lead with 30 seconds left on a driving layup by Joe Dukes, who finished with 15 points, six rebounds and six assists.

Jenkins penetrated for Hofstra, and when the defense collapsed on him, he found Washington at the foul line, who sank the winning shot. On GSU's final possession, Dukes tried to get to the basket but could not get a good look and had the ball stripped.

"Congratulations to Hofstra. They're a tough team to guard because their guards can penetrate but they're also very good shooters," said GSU head coach Rod Barnes. "On that last possession, obviously we wanted to stop Jenkins, who is really a great player. We wanted to stop their penetration, but we let him get too deep, and he found Washington. Give him credit for making a big shot."

Hofstra and Krubally keyed the Panthers in the second half. After Hofstra took a 52-41 lead with 10 minutes to go, the Panthers went on a 12-1 run to tie the game at 53-all on Trey Hampton's three-point play with 6:37 left. Krubally started the run with a pair of layups, Trae Goldston nailed a trey, and James Fields made a fastbreak layup. He failed to convert the three-point play opportunity, but Hofstra rebounded his missed free throw to set up Hampton's tying three-point play.

Krubally, a career 53 percent free throw shooter but much improved lately, hit 11 of 13 free throws in the game, including 9-for-10 in the second half.

After a Jenkins three-pointer moved the Pride ahead, 58-57, Krubally scored Georgia State's next 10 points, including a pair of foul shots left that gave the Panthers a 65-64 lead with 2:03 to play.

Hofstra regained the lead, 66-65, on a bucket by Mikhail Szabo with 1:51 left. After the GSU turnover and then a Hofstra miss by Jenkins, Dukes made his go-ahead layup before Washington's winning shot.

All six GSU seniors made solid contributions in their final game. Hampton finished with seven points, two rebounds, two assists and two blocks. Kevin Lott nailed two three pointers and had four rebounds and two assists, while Xavior Hansbrow had eight points and four rebounds, and Goldston finished with eight points.
